

William J. Inman is a founding partner of Meiselman, Salzer, Inman & Kaminow, P.C. with offices located in Rockville, Frederick and Hagerstown, Maryland. He brings expertise in personal injury, workers' compensation and insurance law to the firm. He has tried cases before the Courts of the State of Maryland and the District of Columbia, and both regions' Workers' Compensation Commissions. A 1993 graduate of The George Washington University National Law Center, with a Juris Doctor degree, Mr. Inman is a member of the Maryland State and District of Columbia Bar Associations, and the Maryland Association for Justice. He is licensed to practice before the United States District Courts in Maryland and the District of Columbia as well as the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Fourth District. Mr. Inman graduated cum laude from the New Jersey Institute of Technology with a Bachelor of Science degree in mechanical engineering in 1990 and as a member of Tau Beta Pi, the National Engineering Honor Society. Though raised in a military family, he spent his formative years in the Washington Metropolitan Area.