L&T E-mail Account

L&TQ&A@dcsc.gov

The new L&TQ&A e-mail account is now available for you to access the L&T Branch managers and several veteran staff members about general questions concerning Landlord and Tenant cases. Often questions are asked throughout the day concerning various administrative topics and the L&T Branch would like to provide another forum for you to ask these questions. By supplying the case number in the subject line, we can research your case and provide you with answers.

You may contact the L&T Clerk's Office through electronic mail only for general information. Giving legal advice is not allowed. Should you need legal advice, please contact an attorney. If you need legal information, you may contact the L&T Resource Center at (202) 508-1710. Also, we are banned from accepting filings or other official communication with the Court through e-mail. You may not request a continuance through e-mail. The purpose of this e-mail account is to answer general or administrative questions that you may have concerning your case. Often administrative questions are asked throughout the day and the L&T Branch would like to provide another forum for you to ask those questions. Please provide your case number in the subject line so that we can assist you more efficiently.
