

THE HONORABLE JOHN H. BAYLY, JR.
SENIOR JUDGE
SUPERIOR COURT OF THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA

John H. Bayly, Jr., was appointed a Judge of the Superior Court of the District of Columbia in 1990 by President George H. W. Bush. In 2005 he began a second term.

Judge Bayly was born in Washington, D.C. He and his wife, Katherine Kenny Bayly, are the parents of three children.

After attending Gonzaga High School on Eye Street, Judge Bayly was graduated from Fordham College. He thereafter attended Harvard Law School.

After law school Judge Bayly joined the staff of the Federal Communications Commission and then became an Assistant United States Attorney.

In 1975 Judge Bayly became a staff attorney with the Senate Select Committee on Intelligence. At the conclusion of the Select Committee's term, Judge Bayly joined the General Counsel's office at the Corporation for Public Broadcasting. In 1978 he returned to the United States Attorney's Office where he did both civil and criminal work.

In 1985 Judge Bayly became general counsel of the Legal Services Corporation and in 1987 he became president of the Corporation. Judge Bayly was of counsel with the firm of Stein, Mitchell & Mezines from 1989 until his appointment to the Superior Court.

Judge Bayly has served in the Civil, Criminal, Family and Probate Divisions of the Court. He has also served as Chairman of the Buildings and Grounds Committee.

Judge Bayly is a member of the District of Columbia Bar. He is also a member of the John Carroll Society, the Counsellors, the Lawyers' Club, and, previously, the William B. Bryant American Inn of Court.
