

SUPERIOR COURT OF THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA

ADMINISTRATIVE ORDER 07-21

(Public Defender Service use of law clerks at administrative/institutional hearings)

WHEREAS, the Superior Court has the authority to approve special programs to allow those who are not members of the District of Columbia bar to provide legal services to the public pursuant to D.C. Court of Appeals Rule 49(c)(10); and

WHEREAS, the Public Defender Service (PDS) Juvenile Services Program (JSP) attorneys represent indigent juveniles in the delinquency system in Department of Youth Rehabilitation Services (DYRS) administrative revocation hearings and institutional disciplinary hearings; and

WHEREAS, PDS-JSP endeavors to increase its ability to represent additional juveniles in such matters, who would otherwise go unrepresented, through the use of law clerks, with disclosure to the individual client of the bar status of the law clerk; and

WHEREAS, PDS recruits, hires and trains law clerks through a rigorous application and interview process;

WHEREAS, the Court has reviewed PDS-JSP's proposal for the use of law clerks pursuant to Rule 49(c)(10) and found it to provide acceptable supervision, oversight and disclosure;

NOW, THEREFORE, it is by the Court,

ORDERED that PDS-JSP be permitted to use law clerks to represent juveniles at administrative revocation hearings and institutional disciplinary hearings, consistent with the training, supervision and disclosure outlined in the proposal.

SO ORDERED.
