

IMPORTANT INFORMATION REGARDING UPDATED MINIMUM SYSTEM REQUIREMENTS FOR COMPUTERS USED FOR THE FEBRUARY 2021 BAR EXAM

Apple has announced the release of a new line of Mac computers, which utilize their new M1 microchip technology and will be available from Apple in November 2020.

Applicants for the February bar exam should NOT plan to use a new Mac device with a new M1 microchip for the exam. Exemplify for Mac is supported only for devices with Intel processors. A new version of Exemplify will be required because the new Mac devices represent a significant shift in core technology. We do not expect the new version to be available by early January when registration opens for the February bar exam.

The Minimum Standard Requirements have been updated to reflect this information. The link is included below and also now include links to instructions on how applicants can check their device against the MSRs.
