^aPending figures were adjusted in January to include additional case activity from Superior Court not previously reported.

^bThe Clearance Rate, a measure of court efficiency, is the total number of cases disposed divided by the total number of cases added to the caseload (i.e. new filings and reinstated) during a given time period. Rates of over 100% indicate that the court disposed of more cases than were added, thereby reducing the pending caseload.

^cFigure adjusted.

^aTime on appeal includes periods when cases are not under active processing by the Court of Appeals. For example, figures include periods when some appeals are stayed for reasons such as bankruptcy or further trial court proceedings. In reciprocal bar matters, the Court opens a case file upon notification that another jurisdiction has disciplined a member of the D.C. Bar, but will not commence active processing of the matter until it receives a Report and Recommendation from the Board on Professional Responsibility.

^aThe Clearance Rate, a measure of court efficiency, is the total number of cases disposed divided by the total number of cases added (i.e., new filings/ reactivated/reopened) during a given time period. Rates of over 100% indicate that the court disposed of more cases than were added, thereby reducing the pending caseload.

^bThe beginning pending figures (i.e., "Cases Pending January 1") include cases that previously had been inactive while pending grand jury, or in a diversion or other excludable time status. Also, outstanding bench warrants are included in "Cases Available for Disposition" and excluded from the calculation of Clearance Rate and, once resolved, are removed from the pending caseload.

^cFigure adjusted after an audit of the caseload.

^aThe Clearance Rate, a measure of court efficiency, is the total number of cases disposed divided by the total number of cases added to the caseload (i.e., new filings/cases reactivated/reopened) during a given time period. Rates of over 100% indicate that the court disposed of more cases than were added, thereby reducing the pending caseload.

^bThe D.C. Misdemeanor clearance rate is not calculated due to a pending audit and changes in the method of counting this caseload. Accordingly, it is not possible to provide a CY 2013 clearance rate for the Criminal Division nor for the Superior Court's overall caseload.

Rates of over 100% indicate that the court disposed of more cases than were added, thereby reducing the pending caseload.

^c As a result of implementing new case processing procedures, the number of cases closed/reports issued increased by 46% to 101 over last year's number of 69.

^aThe Clearance Rate, a measure of court efficiency, is the total number of cases disposed divided by the total number of cases added to the caseload (i.e., new filings/ cases reactivated/reopened) during a given time period. Rates of over 100% indicate that the court disposed of more cases than were added, thereby reducing the pending caseload.

^bConservatorships (Old Law) refers to conservatorships created prior to 1989, which provided for only the management of assets of the ward. Beginning September 30, 1989, intervention proceedings filed were governed by the 300 rule series and D.C. Code 21-2001 through 2085 and termed "Intervention Proceedings" or "Adult Guardianships/Conservatorships."

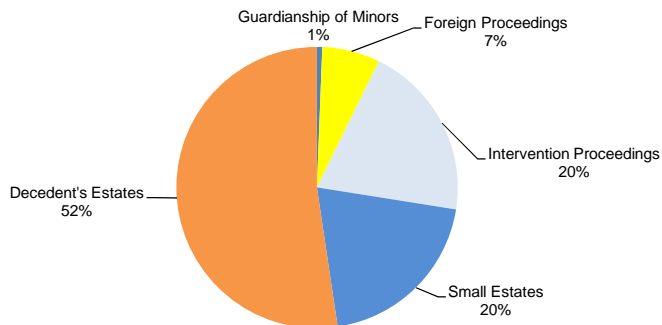

^cThe higher clearance rate for Guardianship of Minors (where cases are held open until the minor reaches 18) and Trusts reflects a decrease over time in the number of new filings.

^dThe lower clearance rate for Intervention Proceedings reflects the expected activity of holding these cases open for many years until the death of the ward.
